? sarvatraka, adj. (cf. Pali sabbatthaka, universal, in all places, not in the BHS mg. in Jāt. i.172.1 or Dāth. 5.57; two other refs. in PTSD not found, app. erroneous), capable of going everywhere: vimānāni °kāni Mv ii.177.15 (prose); no v.l., but the mg. is suspiciously like that of Skt. sarvatra-ga, which perh. read, if the word really modifies the preceding vimānāni. However, the following words are sarvakālikāni puṣpapthalāni, and the position of our word suggests a corruption for Skt. sarvartukāni, of all seasons; equivalents of this word (see sarvartuka, sarvotuka) precede sarvakālika, q.v., in Mv ii.97.4; iii.69.12, 13.

sarvatratāye, adv. (app. instr. of *sarvatra-tā; = Pali sabbattatāya or sabbatthattāya, see below), altogether, in every way: sarvehi (q.v.) °tāye sarvāvantam lokam spharitvopasampadya viharati Mv iii.213.14, in a passage found repeatedly in Pali (PTSD s.v. sabbatthattā), e. g. DN i.251.2, analyzed Vism. 308.4 ff., where (as in DN and elsewhere) sabbattatāya is read; this is analyzed 308.29 as sabb-atta-(= ātma)-tāya: sabbadhi °tāya sabbāvantam lokam... pharitvā viharati; some texts read sabbatthattāya (as if based on sabbattha = sarvatra); there is no record in Pali Dictt. of any other occurrence of the word (on Kaccāyana-vutti's sabbatthattā see CPD s.v. a-sabb° with ref.); but the BHS word occurs also in: sarvaśo °tāye jñātavyam Mv i.229.9 = ii.133.10 = 285.2; (ye kecid) bhavā (mss. bhavē) sarve hi (read sarvehi, q.v.?) °tāye samvartanti (prob. delete punctuation and add with mss. ye), sarve te bhavā anityā... ii.418.12.
